Fondazione Eni Enrico Mattei (FEEM)

The Fondazione Eni Enrico Mattei (FEEM) is an independent not-for-profit research institution focusing on sustainable development and global governance. Established by decree of the President of the Italian Republic in July 1989, it has become a leading international research centre, with a network of more than 100 fellows and offices in Milan, Venice and Brussels. One of its principal aims is to promote interaction between academic, industrial and public policy spheres in order to comprehensively address concerns about economic and social development.

FEEM also supplies technical support and advice to the domestic and international institutions, such as the Italian Ministry of Finance, the Italian Ministry of the Environment, expert groups under the umbrellas of the EU, the OECD, the United Nations, the UN Commission of Sustainable Development, the IPCC. It also co-operates with Institutions such as the World Bank, the NBER, Resources for the Future, the CEPR, the European Association of Environmental and Resource Economists, the Beijer Institute of Ecological Economics, and several European and US Universities.
